WRITTEN DIRECT STATEMENT OF MPAA-REPRESENTED PROGRAM SUPPLIERS

The Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. (“MPAA”), on behalf of its member companies and other producers and/or distributors of syndicated movies, series, specials, and non-team sports broadcast by television stations who have agreed to representation by MPAA (“MPAA-represented Program Suppliers”),¹ in accordance with the September 23, 2013 Order of the Copyright Royalty Judges (“Judges”), hereby submit their Written Direct Statement in the captioned matter. MPAA submits this introductory memorandum in order to summarize the evidence it intends to present in this proceeding and to state the Phase II Claims of MPAA-represented Program Suppliers for the 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, and 2009 cable royalty funds (“2004-2009 Cable Royalties”).

¹ A listing of MPAA-represented Program Suppliers is being submitted as Appendix A to the testimony of Jane Saunders.

I. INTRODUCTION

The Phase I portion of the distribution of the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties was resolved by litigation as to the 2004 and 2005 cable royalty funds, followed by a confidential settlement among the Phase I Parties.² Following resolution of the Phase I disputes, MPAA, on behalf of its represented Program Suppliers claimants, endeavored to resolve all disputes among all Program Suppliers in order to avoid the instant proceeding. Accordingly, MPAA engaged all of the parties who had identified themselves as having claims within the Program Suppliers category in settlement discussions.

Before the Judges commenced this proceeding, MPAA reached confidential Phase II settlements with the National Association of Broadcasters, Home Shopping Network, and USA/IAC,³ all of whom, but for the settlements, would be participating in this proceeding. As a result of these settlements, all three parties relinquished any further claims to the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties. On January 2, 2014, MPAA notified the Judges that despite MPAA's good faith efforts to reach settlements, Phase II controversies remained in the Program Suppliers category among MPAA, David Powell, and Independent Producers Group ("IPG"). On April 18, 2014, the Judges dismissed Mr. Powell's Petition to Participate in this proceeding. Accordingly, as of the date of this filing, the only unresolved Phase II controversy in the Program Suppliers category as to the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties is between MPAA and IPG.

In each of the past Phase II proceedings involving the Program Suppliers category, MPAA-represented claimants received the overwhelmingly largest share of the royalties attributable to the Program Suppliers category.⁴ Most of these Phase II proceedings involved multiple Program Suppliers claimants. The awards to MPAA-represented claimants were well-justified: first, MPAA-represented claimants outnumbered other claimants within the Program Suppliers category; second, MPAA-represented claimants owned more titles than any other Program Suppliers claimant; third, MPAA-represented claimants' programs constituted, by far, the largest volume of programs (i.e., minutes of program air time) available to subscribers; and fourth, MPAA-represented claimants' programs had more viewing than those of any other claimants. Moreover, MPAA-represented claimants' programs, which cover the entire spectrum of program genres, belonged to small mom-and-pops as well as to large motion picture studios who supply the predominant share of programs on television. The foregoing elements also characterize the claims of MPAA-represented claimants for this Phase II proceeding.

For the purpose of the allocation of the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties, MPAA-represented Program Suppliers continue to believe that the relative market value standard applies. To that end, MPAA-represented Program Suppliers will offer a simple, direct and statistically sound methodological approach to the allocation of the royalties between MPAA's and IPG's claimants. That approach presumes, first, that the programs within the Program Suppliers category are generally homogeneous and, second, that such homogeneity equalizes the cost factors associated with retransmitting the various types of programs within the Program Suppliers category. As a result, MPAA submits that within the Program Suppliers category, the best three measures of market value are (1) volume of programming available to distant subscribers, (2) viewing of such programs, and (3) the effect, if any, of such programs on subscriber growth. Taking these factors into account, MPAA-represented claimants should receive between 99.90% and 99.99% of the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties.

II. DIRECT TESTIMONY SUBMITTED BY MPAA-REPRESENTED PROGRAM SUPPLIERS

Program Suppliers will present the following witnesses, each of whom will sponsor his or her testimony and accompanying appendices and/or attachments:

Jane V. Saunders serves as Senior Vice-President, Rights Management Policy and Relations ("RPMR") at MPAA. Ms. Saunders oversees MPAA's RPMR department, which is responsible for copyright royalty policy as it relates to collective and statutory rights management both in the United States and worldwide on behalf of MPAA's members and other producers and distributors of protected works. Ms. Saunders will provide information regarding the MPAA-represented Program Suppliers' claim in this proceeding, including the claimants MPAA represents and the titles that comprise MPAA's Phase II claim. Further, Ms. Saunders will describe the process MPAA's RMPR department undertook to confirm that all of MPAA's represented claimants are eligible for the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties. Ms. Saunders will also describe her international experience in negotiating and collecting retransmission royalties on behalf of MPAA members and others, and the important role that viewing information plays in international royalty allocations and distributions.

Jonda K. Martin is the President and Owner of Cable Data Corporation ("CDC"), which collects and computerizes the data contained in the cable operator statements of account ("SOAs") on file with the Copyright Office. Ms. Martin will provide an overview of CDC's operations and data collection methodologies. She will also describe data reports that CDC generated and provided to MPAA and Dr. Jeffrey Gray, MPAA's economist witness, in connection with the Nielsen data presented by MPAA in this proceeding.

Paul B. Lindstrom is a Senior Vice President with Nielsen, where he is in charge of research design and analysis for the Nielsen Strategic Media Research Group. Mr. Lindstrom will provide an overview of Nielsen's audience measurement methodology. Mr. Lindstrom will also provide information about the Nielsen viewing data that MPAA is relying on in this proceeding, including his role in designing the custom Nielsen Studies that MPAA commissioned for 2000-2003.

Jeffrey S. Gray, Ph.D. is the founder and President of Analytics Research Group, LLC. Relying on certain basic economic principles, Dr. Gray employs three different forms of Nielsen data, multiple other data sources, and regression analysis to calculate the level of distant viewing to a random sample of stations carrying MPAA claimed works for each royalty year at issue in this proceeding. Dr. Gray's economic analyses produce the relative market value of MPAA- and IPG-claimed works for each of the 2004-2009 cable royalty years based on multiple factors, including volume, viewership, and distant subscribers.

III. DESIGNATED PRIOR TESTIMONY

Pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 351.4(b)(2), Program Suppliers hereby designate for incorporation in their Written Direct Statement the following witnesses' testimonies from the 2000-2003 Cable Phase II Distribution Proceeding, Docket No. 2008-2 CRB CD 2000-2003 (Phase II) (copies of which are included in Volume II of MPAA-represented Program Suppliers' Written Direct Statement):

MPAA-represented Program Suppliers reserve the right to designate additional portions of the records in prior proceedings if, after examining the record designations of other parties, it appears that such additional portions are necessary for a complete and accurate understanding of the import of designated evidence.

IV. MPAA-REPRESENTED PROGRAM SUPPLIERS' PHASE II CLAIMS

Based on MPAA-represented Program Suppliers' evidence in this proceeding, MPAA-represented Program Suppliers seek the following percentages of the Program Suppliers' share of the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties:

Royalty Year	MPAA Claimed Share Of PS Fund (%)
2004	99.90%
2005	99.95%
2006	99.97%
2007	99.98%
2008	99.99%
2009	99.99%

MPAA-represented Program Suppliers reserve the right to amend their Written Direct Statement and to change their Phase II claims as appropriate in light of the evidence presented by IPG.

DIRECT TESTIMONY OF JANE V. SAUNDERS

I. BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

My name is Jane V. Saunders. I serve as Senior Vice-President, Rights Management Policy and Relations (“RMPR”), at the Motion Picture Association of America (“MPAA”). Prior to joining MPAA in 1995, I was an attorney engaged in private practice for seven years in Atlanta, Georgia and the District of Columbia. Immediately prior to joining MPAA, I worked for three years as an associate attorney handling compulsory license matters, including participating in royalty distribution proceedings before the Copyright Royalty Tribunal. I received my baccalaureate degree from Dartmouth College and my law degree from Emory University. I am fluent in Spanish and French and have a working knowledge of German and Italian. I represent MPAA and its member companies on the boards of various collective management organizations, including AGICOA,¹ where I sit on the Executive Committee and Finance Committee; the German collection society GWFF USA; Danish collection societies, CAB and FilmKopi; and the Copyright Collective of Canada. I am a member, with inactive status, of the Georgia State and District of Columbia Bar Associations.

I head MPAA’s RMPR department which is responsible for copyright royalty policy as it relates to collective and statutory rights management both domestically and worldwide on behalf of MPAA's members and, in some cases, other producers and distributors of compensable works.

On the international front, my responsibilities include assisting in the development of policies aimed at protecting the rights of U.S. producers and copyright holders in the area of collective and statutory rights management and promoting best operational practices within rights management societies; advising MPAA member companies on aspects of U.S. and foreign copyright policy in the area of collective and statutory rights management; helping to formulate strategies to support individual management of rights; and managing relationships between MPAA members and collective rights management organizations ("CMOs"), the foreign collection societies which are responsible for the collection and administration of retransmission and other types of royalties. In Europe, for example, I work to ensure that MPAA-represented U.S. producers receive their fair share of collectively managed retransmission and other royalties throughout Europe. To do so, I actively engage the CMOs through which our members claim royalties and participate in the development of best practices for distribution processes. Further, I represent the interests of MPAA's members in negotiation of agreements whereby they claim royalty shares and, in particular, assist the international cable retransmission royalty CMO, AGICOA, in the negotiation of agreements for collection of retransmission royalties and in the development of distribution rules and policies throughout Europe. In Canada, I am responsible for all of the operations of MPAA's retransmission royalty program via the Copyright Collective of Canada ("CCC"), including supervision of CCC staff, negotiations with retransmitters (i.e., cable and satellite companies) regarding setting rates and negotiating with the other collection society groups (i.e., claimants) regarding allocation of collected royalties.

In the U.S., I supervise all of MPAA's activities in connection with the administration of U.S. cable and satellite retransmission royalties (Sections 111 and 119 of the Copyright Act, respectively), including supervision of the royalty administration and enforcement of the compulsory licenses; supervision of MPAA employees; engagement of outside vendors; procurement of data; and supervision of outside counsel. In that regard, I manage a team who works closely with information technology contractors and with financial, legal and statistical professionals to provide fair and efficient distribution of royalties among our represented claimants. Until her retirement in 2010, Marsha Kessler oversaw the distribution of U.S. cable and satellite retransmission royalties at MPAA. She also assisted MPAA-represented claimants in the annual filing of their claims. From 2007 until her retirement in 2010, I was Ms. Kessler's supervisor for the administration of retransmission royalties. Ms. Kessler testified in the recent 2000-2003 cable Phase II royalty distribution proceeding, and I understand that a copy of her testimony from that proceeding has been incorporated in MPAA's Written Direct Statement as designated prior testimony.²

II. PURPOSE OF TESTIMONY

First, I will describe the nature and extent of the MPAA-represented Program Suppliers' claim in this proceeding, including the different types of programs that comprise our claim. Second, I will explain MPAA's process for identifying and certifying ownership of each of the program titles claimed by MPAA in this proceeding. Finally, I will discuss my international experience regarding the role of viewership as a measure of value for purposes of the distribution of retransmission royalties in Canada and Europe.

III. OVERVIEW OF MPAA'S CLAIM

Beginning with the first royalty distribution proceeding addressing the allocation of 1978 cable royalties, MPAA has been the de facto Phase I representative of all Program Suppliers claimants – the owners of nonnetwork series, movies, specials, and non-team sports which air on commercial television broadcast stations retransmitted by cable systems. In Phase II proceedings, MPAA represents those program suppliers who have agreed to representation by MPAA (“MPAA-represented Program Suppliers”). The lists of MPAArepresented Program Suppliers asserting claims to Section 111 royalties in this proceeding are set forth in Appendix A.

MPAA-represented Program Suppliers include not only MPAA's so-called major members, but also dozens of smaller producers and syndicators from both the U.S. and many parts of the world – all of whom have filed claims seeking a share of the royalty pool for some or all of the 2004-2009 cable royalty years. MPAA directly represents approximately 100 claimants in each royalty year at issue. Because many of these MPAA-represented claimants filed joint claims, have multiple subsidiaries, and include royalty collection agents, MPAA directly and indirectly represents between 3,000 and 4,000 claimants per royalty year. Appendix A is limited to only the particular MPAA-represented Program Suppliers who have certified their authority to collect retransmission royalties for programming that is compensable in this proceeding. This list includes between 200 and 300 MPAA-represented claimants per royalty year.

Although MPAA-represented programs fit generally under the umbrella of series, movies and specials, the width and breadth of those programs are quite remarkable. Our programs include game shows, sitcoms, news magazines, interview shows, sports shows and sporting events, awards shows, health and fitness shows, and animal shows, as well as similar Spanish works. The following are examples of our programs:

- Animated series and sitcoms, such as: FRIENDS (Warner Bros. Domestic Television Distribution), THAT '70S SHOW (Carsey-Werner-Mandabach Productions, LLC), and THE SIMPSONS (Fox Entertainment Group, Inc.).
- Movies, such as: AFRICAN QUEEN (Carlton International), A FISH CALLED WANDA (Metro-Goldwyn Mayer Studios, Inc.), and YOUNG GUNS II (Morgan Creek International, Inc.).
- Game shows, such as: FAMILY FEUD (FremantleMedia NA) and JEOPARDY! (Jeopardy Productions, Inc.).
- Sports shows and sports-related programs, such as: BABE WINKELMAN'S GOOD FISHING (Babe Winkelman Productions, Inc.), GEORGE MICHAEL SPORTS MACHINE (King World Productions, Inc.), KING OF THE HILLS—THE 89TH PGA CHAMPIONSHIP (Professional Golfers' Association of America), THIS WEEK IN BASEBALL (Major League Baseball Properties, Inc.), NASCAR RACING (NASCAR Media Group), 2005 AMERICAN SKI CLASSIC (Jalbert Productions, Inc.) and WWE SMACKDOWN! (World Wrestling Entertainment, Inc.).
- Awards shows and pageants, such as: AMERICAN LATINO AWARDS (Lationation, LLC), MISS HAWAIIAN TROPIC INTERNATIONAL PAGEANT (Bennett Productions, Inc.), 61ST ANNUAL GOLDEN GLOBE AWARDS (dick clark productions, inc.), and THE 40TH NAACP IMAGE AWARDS (Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation).

- News shows, such as: MCLAUGHLIN GROUP (Oliver Productions, Inc.) and WALL STREET JOURNAL REPORT (NBC Universal, Inc.).
- Reality shows, such as: AMERICAN IDOL (FremantleMedia NA), SURVIVOR: ALL-STARS (CBS Broadcasting, Inc.), THE BIGGEST LOSER (NBC Universal, Inc.), and THE BACHELOR (New Line Cinema Corporation).
- Animal shows, such as: WILD ABOUT ANIMALS (Steve Rotfeld Productions, Inc.), ANIMAL RESCUE (Telco Productions, Inc.), and PET KEEPING WITH MARC MORRONE (Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia, Inc.).
- Interview and talk shows, such as: THE OPRAH WINFREY SHOW (King World Productions, Inc.) and MARTHA STEWART LIVING (Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia, Inc.).

All of these and many more types of programs fall within the MPAA-represented Program Suppliers' claim. Relative to Phase II claims, MPAA-represented Program Suppliers not only have the largest number of programs, they also have an extremely diverse array of programs. An alphabetical list of all of the program titles that MPAA-represented Program Suppliers are claiming in this proceeding for each royalty year is attached to my testimony as Appendix B. Taken together, this list includes an average of 3,700 unique titles for each of the six cable royalty years in question, for a total of more than 22,000 MPAA-claimed titles for the six-year period.

Definitions

I ask that you please refer to the Direct Testimony of Marsha E. Kessler dated May 30, 2012, Docket No. 2008-2 CRB CD 2000-2003 (Phase II), which is included as part of MPAA's designated prior testimony in this proceeding, wherein Ms. Kessler provided definitions of the following terms commonly used in Section 111 discussions: TV station, cable network, network station, independent station, network programming, nonnetwork programming, network TV stations, transmission, retransmission, local market, local service area, distant station (signal), local station (signal), and retransmission royalties.

IV. MPAA'S CLAIM VERIFICATION AND TITLE CERTIFICATION PROCESS

MPAA has developed and maintains internal standards to ensure that only those individuals or entities who are truly entitled to claim retransmission royalties are able to assert a claim for those royalties through MPAA. To be a MPAA-represented claimant, a rights holder must satisfy the following requirements: (1) file a timely claim for retransmission royalties each year with the Copyright Office ("Office"); (2) provide MPAA with an "as-filed" copy of that claim, demonstrating that it was submitted to the Office in a timely manner; and (3) have a valid representation agreement with MPAA, or be a party to a joint claim filed by an agent who has a representation agreement with MPAA. All of the MPAArepresented claimants listed on Appendix A to my testimony satisfied these requirements.

Relative to 2004-2009, for those parties who satisfied the requirements, MPAA identified the program titles for which those entities were entitled to claim Section 111 royalties. Once MPAA identified the program titles we believed were attributable to a particular MPAA-represented claimant, we prepared a certification report listing those titles and sent it to the claimant, along with a certification form for the claimant to sign verifying that party's right to claim the works listed on the certification report. Each claimant was required to review the report, strike through any titles for which it was not authorized to claim retransmission royalties, and to then certify its ownership of the remaining titles. MPAA's represented claimants returned their executed certifications to my staff at MPAA, who ensured that any corrections made to the report were accurately captured by MPAA. My staff at MPAA performed the tasks just described on a royalty year-by-royalty year basis. The list of MPAA-represented claimants' titles in Appendix B of my testimony were all subject to this certification process.

V. VIEWING AND MARKET VALUE

I understand that the standard for allocation of royalties in this proceeding is the relative market value of programs. In their decision regarding the distribution of the 2000-2003 Phase cable royalties, the Copyright Royalty Judges ("Judges") concluded:

[V]iewership can be a reasonable and directly measurable metric for calculating relative market value in cable distribution proceedings. Indeed, the Judges conclude that viewership is the initial and predominant heuristic that a hypothetical CSO would consider in determining whether to acquire a bundle of programs for distant retransmission, subject to marginal bundling adjustments needed to maximize subscribership.

Distribution of the 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003 Cable Royalty Funds, 78 Fed. Reg. 64984, 64996 (Oct. 30, 2013). I think the Judges might find it useful that my international experience with the negotiation, collection and distribution of retransmission royalties on behalf of MPAA members and others is consistent with the Judges' conclusion regarding viewing.

Canada has a compulsory license system similar to that in the U.S. In that system, nine collective societies (the Canadian equivalent of claimant groups), each representing a category of rights owners, claim royalties paid by retransmitters under that license for the distant retransmission of audiovisual works. Viewing is the metric relied upon by the Canadian Copyright Board ("CCB"), a body comparable in mission to the Copyright Royalty Judges ("Judges"), to allocate shares of total royalties paid by retransmitters among the Canadian collectives. To that end, one or more of the claiming collective societies, which represent the rights holders, submit individually or jointly (depending on the royalty year period in question) viewing studies to the CCB. These studies are based upon ratings information for broadcast events during a given royalty year, obtained through a monitoring organization called BBM

Canada, and other metrics to winnow out distant subscriber viewing of the various audiovisual works claimed by each collective. The CCB has relied on these viewing studies to allocate the collected royalties.

In Europe, the copyright system is rather different from that in the U.S. Still, some hopefully useful comparisons can be made to inform these proceedings with respect to relying on viewing to determine the allocation of royalties to rightsholders. In most European countries, royalties for all retransmissions, not only distant retransmissions, are paid by cable systems to a variety of CMOs representing many different copyright ownership groups. A peculiarity of European Union (“EU”) law is that only cable retransmission royalties are subject to mandatory collective management—in other words, a comparable system to a compulsory license such as that we have in the U.S. and in Canada—under the framework of the EU Cable & Satellite Directive. The largest claimant in the European landscape representing producers (and the only claimant representing international producers) who wish to claim these retransmission royalties for audiovisual works is AGICOA. AGICOA, which has thirteen thousand rights holder claimants, was established in the late 1980s to represent producers of audiovisual works.³ AGICOA claims a share of total royalties from European cable operators in respect of the rights of its membership, which consists of producers of non-news, non-sports programming in the vast majority of European countries. AGICOA's share of these royalties is determined largely through a negotiation process, and there is no adjudicative body comparable to the Judges that supervises those negotiations. The share ultimately received by AGICOA of cable retransmission royalties is based largely on the scope of AGICOA's repertoire (volume) and the number of channels retransmitted in a particular country that include the AGICOA repertoire (i.e., works claimed by AGICOA rights holders). In the distribution of those royalties among AGICOA claimants, however, viewing is the key and critical component in AGICOA's allocation of royalties to a particular work. Other factors such as duration of the work are also factored into the analysis. AGICOA and its partner organizations purchase viewing data for every channel above a certain market share threshold (as a general rule, 2%). These data report actual viewing per broadcast event longer than one minute. AGICOA allocates royalties it receives from cable operators to each claimed work in its repertoire that has been broadcast and retransmitted in a given royalty year using these viewing data.

Thank you for the opportunity to present the information in this testimony.

I hope it will be helpful in the Judges' deliberations.

DECLARATION OF JANE V. SAUNDERS

DIRECT TESTIMONY OF JONDA K. MARTIN

I. BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

My name is Jonda K. Martin. I am the President and owner of Cable Data Corporation (“CDC”), which is located in Mount Airy, Maryland. In my more than 25 years at CDC, I have been actively involved in all aspects of the company, including research, data entry, report generation, and administration. I received a Bachelor of Science/Business Administration degree from American University in Washington, D.C., with concentrations in international business and management of information systems. I also received a MBA from the University of Maryland. I have previously testified before the Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel (“CARP”) regarding CDC’s operations in connection with the CARP’s distribution of 1998 and 1999 cable compulsory license royalties, and before the Copyright Royalty Judges (“Judges”) in connection with Phase I and Phase II proceedings regarding the distribution of the 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003 cable royalty funds, and also the Phase I proceeding regarding the distribution of the 2004 and 2005 cable royalty funds.

II. PURPOSE OF TESTIMONY

The purpose of my testimony is to provide the Judges with an overview of CDC’s operations and describe its data collection process and methodologies in relevant detail. I will describe the carriage data that CDC supplied to the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. (“MPAA”) in connection with this proceeding, which I understand was utilized by Dr. Jeffrey S. Gray in his analysis.

III. CABLE DATA CORPORATION

CDC was established in 1979 to collect and analyze information on Statements of Account (“SOAs”) that cable systems file with the Licensing Division of the Copyright Office (“Licensing Division”). CDC makes the collected information available to users by purchase, either on an as needed basis or by subscription. CDC is the only company providing such a service. Numerous parties involved in the cable and satellite industries rely on data collected by CDC. This is particularly true for parties involved in copyright compulsory license proceedings. As a result, CDC data have been presented over the years to the Copyright Royalty Tribunal, the CARP, and the Judges in virtually all of the cable and satellite copyright royalty distribution proceedings and rate adjustment proceedings. In this section of my testimony, I will provide an overview of CDC’s operations and its data collection methodologies.

Data collection is an integral part of CDC’s operations. CDC has two full-time employees who spend the vast majority of each work day on-location in the Licensing Division of the Copyright Office (“Office”). Those employees record data and other information from each publicly-available, filed SOA on laptop computers.¹ The employees return to CDC’s office periodically to transfer the data collected at the Copyright Office on laptops to CDC’s HP3000 minicomputer. Once the data are transferred to CDC’s minicomputer, CDC produces standard reports and customized reports which summarize the SOA data. To keep CDC data as consistent as possible with the SOAs on file with the Licensing Division, CDC performs regular system updates to account for modifications made to a system's filing, for reasons such as additional royalty payments and refunds issued by the Licensing Division.

¹ Once SOAs are filed at the Copyright Office they are subject to review by the Licensing Division before they are made available for public inspection. The Licensing Division’s initial review typically causes a several month delay between the date that the SOAs are filed with the Office and the date that the filings are available for CDC’s on-site employees to access the information.

After the SOA data is entered in CDC's computer system, CDC produces both standardized and customized reports of aggregated cable system data for its clients. Both CDC's standardized and customized reports are derived from the same database and rely on the same CDC data protocols.

IV. CDC CARRIAGE DATA PROVIDED TO MPAA

At the request of MPAA's counsel, CDC provided MPAA with customized data reports for each of the 2004-2009 cable royalty years. For each royalty year, these data reports listed all commercial broadcast stations carried as full-time distant signals by cable systems, the number of distant subscribers to which each station was available, and CDC's calculation of the distant fees generated by that station. I understand that Dr. Jeffrey Gray utilized these data in order to select the sample stations for each royalty year at issue in this proceeding. CDC also provided customized data reports to MPAA for the recently concluded Phase II proceeding regarding the distribution of 2000, 2001, 2002 and 2003 cable royalty funds. I also understand that Dr. Gray utilized these CDC data in his economic analysis.

Thank you for the opportunity to present this information in this proceeding. I hope that it will assist you in your deliberations.

DECLARATION OF JONDA K. MARTIN

Paul B. Lindstrom
Sr. Vice President
Strategic Media Research

TESTIMONY OF PAUL B. LINDSTROM

My name is Paul Lindstrom. I am a Senior Vice President with Nielsen. I am in charge of research design and analysis for the Nielsen Strategic Media Research group. Nielsen is a global leader in information services for the media and entertainment industries. Nielsen serves the information and marketing needs of television and radio broadcasters, cable networks, advertisers, agencies, media planners, music companies, publishers, motion-picture studios, distributors and exhibitors, and the Internet industry.

I. BACKGROUND AND EXPERIENCE

I have worked for Nielsen for thirty-six years and have spent the majority of that time designing custom research with a particular focus on new television viewing sources and audience measurement of new services that might compete with television. These have included cable television, pay-TV, satellite services, over-the-air subscription television, VCRs, PCs, on-line services, the Internet, DVDs, cinema, and most recently, place-based and location-based digital networks. I am currently responsible for national custom research and custom research for local cable. I work with clients to determine the best methodologies to answer their audience research questions. In the television area, these methods can involve either the analysis of existing databases of previously collected meter data, local television diary samples, or the development of new databases through the use of new single-client sponsored data collections. Through the years I have worked on projects as varied as the pre-launch concept tests for ESPN, The Weather Channel and DirecTV, the design of Nielsen's Syndicated Pay Cable, VCR Usage, Syndicated Satellite and Home Technology Reports, the CommerceNet Study of Internet Usage, the Nielsen Cinema Audience Report, and Nielsen On Location Media. I have been involved in all of the studies that the Motion Picture Association of America ("MPAA") has directed Nielsen to conduct for proceedings before the Copyright Royalty Tribunal, the Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel, and the Copyright Royalty Judges since 1980. Also, I have testified before those bodies.

The Nielsen name is synonymous with television ratings. Ratings are the percent of the universe of U.S. households tuned to a TV program during the average quarter-hour. Nielsen ratings provide an estimate of the U.S. television audience size and are a barometer for viewing choices and preferences. Viewing information is important to broadcast networks, local and national syndicated programs, local cable system operators, multi-system cable operators (MSOs), satellite carriers, and interconnects. Interconnects are aggregations of cable systems that cover a particular market or region, thus allowing an agency or advertiser to buy a large area at one time without having to negotiate with many different companies.

As more local cable ad sellers sell local advertising time on cable channels, they need an agreed "currency" in order to maximize the value of their advertising time. Nielsen ratings offer that currency. Nielsen's charter as an independent measurement service is to provide both the buyer and seller of time with unbiased estimates of viewing behavior.

II. PURPOSE OF TESTIMONY

The purpose of my testimony is to provide an overview of Nielsen's sampling process and method for generating television ratings and to explain the types of Nielsen data that MPAA is relying on in this proceeding.

III. SAMPLING AND TV RATINGS

The Nielsen rating you may see reported in newspapers or magazines is simply a statistical estimate of the number of homes tuned to a program. For example, a rating of 5 for a network television program means that 5% of the estimated U.S. television homes at the time of measurement are estimated to have been tuned in to that program at any point in time.

Above, I describe a rating as a "statistical estimate." However, ratings are based, not on a count of all television households, but on the count within a sample of television households selected from all television households. The sample results are then projected to national totals. We also sometimes use the phrase "share" to quantify audience viewing levels. "Share" refers to the percentage of television sets in use tuned to a program. In other words, a rating measures what percentage of the universe of television households tuned in to a program, while a share measures what percentage of the number of television sets in use that are tuned in to a particular program.

IV. NIELSEN DATA USED IN THIS PROCEEDING

During 2000-2009, Nielsen utilized two basic data collection instruments in our syndicated services: meters and diaries. A set meter is an electronic device attached to a television set in a particular household that detects the channel to which the television is being tuned. The data from these set meters are then converted into household ratings. Household meter data was collected year-round in Nielsen's metered markets during 2000-2009. Diaries are paper booklets in which each person in the household records viewing information.

I understand that Dr. Jeffrey Gray makes use of three different kinds of Nielsen data in his economic analysis: (1) national household diary data, (2) local ratings data, and (3) national household metered viewing data. The first type of Nielsen data is a custom analysis of Nielsen diary data for 2000-2003 that I designed for MPAA. The other two types of Nielsen data are standard reports drawn from Nielsen's syndicated measurement.

A. 2000-2003 Cable Diary Study

In 2000-2003, diary data was collected by Nielsen during the months of November, February, May, July, and, in some instances, October and March. These months are also known as the "sweeps" rating periods. Diary data was collected in metered and non-metered markets. Seven-day diaries were mailed to homes to keep a tally of what was watched on each television set and by whom. Over the course of a sweeps period, diaries were mailed to a new panel of homes each week. At the end of each month, all of the viewing data from the individual weeks were aggregated into Nielsen's database.

I designed a custom analysis of Nielsen diary data for 2000-2003 which estimated actual distant viewing by cable households. I described the methodology employed for this custom analysis in my previous testimony in the 2000-2003 cable

Phase II proceeding, a copy of which has been incorporated in MPAA's Written Direct Statement in this proceeding as prior designated testimony.¹

B. 2000-2009 Nielsen Local Ratings Data

This data set contains Nielsen local ratings data for a sample of stations randomly selected by Dr. Gray for the years 2000-2009. These local ratings data were collected by electronic meters attached to television sets in Nielsen metered markets. These data include information on the number and percentage of households in the station's local market tuned to the station for each quarter hour for every day throughout the year.

C. 2000-2009 Nielsen National Household Viewing Data

This data set consists of annual aggregated, average minute, metered household tuning by quarter-hour of broadcast stations, network affiliates, and independents nationally for the years 2000-2009. These were are also collected by electronic set meters attached to television sets, and include aggregated annual national viewing, ratings, and share, reported on a quarter-hour basis.

V. "ZERO VIEWING" INSTANCES

One concern raised in past Phase II proceedings was the so-called "zero viewing" instances that appeared in Nielsen's custom analysis of Nielsen diary data. I discussed this issue extensively during my hearing testimony before the Judges in the recent 2000-2003 cable Phase II proceeding.²

As I testified previously, the appearance of these “zero viewing” instances is consistent with what I would expect to find in a custom analysis of viewing to distant signals by cable subscribers for at least two reasons. First, it is important to recognize that Dr. Gray’s analysis excluded all distant viewing to programs that are not compensable in this proceeding. This included programs that were not simultaneously broadcast on both WGN’s local feed and WGN’s satellite feed (known as WGN-A). Where noncompensable programs aired, Nielsen’s custom analysis properly reported a zero viewing value. Second, the amount of actual viewing minutes to certain distant signals is very small. Where the viewing minutes to particular distant signal programs were so small, Nielsen’s custom analysis would assign a zero viewing value. Notwithstanding these zero viewing instances, reliable estimates of viewing may be drawn from the aggregate data.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in this proceeding.

I. QUALIFICATIONS

I, Jeffrey Gray, am the founder and President of Analytics Research Group, LLC (“ARG”). My firm provides expert analysis concerning economic, statistical and data issues.

I received training in economics and statistics at the University of Pennsylvania, where I earned a Ph.D. in economics. In 1991, I was appointed to a one-year position on the staff of the President’s Council of Economic Advisers, where I concentrated on the economic impact of government policies and regulation. From 1993 to 1997, I served on the faculty of the University of Illinois, where I taught graduate and undergraduate courses covering survey techniques, demand analysis, labor economics, and statistics. My research has been published in some of the top peer-reviewed journals in the economics profession including The American Economic Review. I have received grants to pursue my research from the U. S. Department of Labor, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the Research Board of the University of Illinois. I have presented my research findings before a variety of seminars at universities, meetings of professional societies and conferences on specialized topics in the United States and abroad. Throughout my professional career I have been asked to serve as a referee for leading economics journals, such as The American Economic Review and the Review of Economics and Statistics, concerning the appropriate application of economics and statistics.

I have served as a consultant for companies, law firms, and government agencies on a variety of economic and statistical issues related to antitrust, copyright and patent infringement, and complex commercial disputes. My consulting work has included analyzing economic markets as well as valuing copyrighted material and assessing efficient price and advertising levels. I have been engaged by cable system operators (“CSOs”) to analyze the content and viewership of certain channels and by music performance rights owners to determine the economic value of the right to perform copyrighted music. I have provided expert testimony before the Copyright Royalty Judges (“Judges”), as well as in state, federal and international courts, and have presented my research methodology and analytical findings before the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Texas Commissioner of Insurance, and the New York and Massachusetts State Offices of the Attorney General.

My curriculum vitae, which includes a list of my publications in the last ten years, and a list of cases in which I have testified in the last four years, is attached as Appendix A. This report is based upon information currently available to me; I reserve the right to supplement this report should additional information be made available.

II. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. Programming belonging to the claimants represented by the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. (“MPAA”) consists of thousands of unique programs, many retransmitted multiple times, over the years 2004 to 2009.

These programs represented millions of valuable programming minutes retransmitted by CSOs each year.

2. This programming is valuable insofar as it is valued by CSO customers. The most direct and reasonable approach to measuring the extent to which CSO customers value programming is viewership. Program viewership therefore provides the measure of program market value, especially because the allocation of Program Suppliers' royalties in this Phase II proceeding involves examination of relatively homogenous programming. Relying upon multiple data sources and regression analysis, it is possible to estimate viewing minutes of programs on distantly retransmitted signals.
3. I have not received information concerning any valid, compensable programs claimed by Independent Producers Group ("IPG") within the Program Suppliers category for this Phase II proceeding. After receiving a list of IPG's programs, I will calculate the relative volume and viewing shares for IPG and MPAA programming. I will also calculate the implied royalty share for IPG and MPAA programming. I intend to amend my testimony to reflect these calculations.
4. Absent information on IPG-represented compensable programs between 2004 and 2009, I estimate MPAA's royalty shares each year from 2004 to 2009 by extrapolating MPAA distribution percentages the Judges established following the 2000-2003 Phase II Proceeding.¹ Assuming MPAA and IPG representation of programming followed the trend evidenced from 2000 to 2003, MPAA's royalty allocation would be 99.90% in 2004, 99.95% in 2005, 99.97% in 2006, 99.98% in 2007, 99.99% in 2008, and 99.99% in 2009.

III. BACKGROUND AND OVERVIEW OF ROYALTY ALLOCATION PROCESS

I understand that the purpose of this Phase II proceeding is to allocate the 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, and 2009 cable royalty funds ("2004-2009 Cable Royalties") within the syndicated series, movies, specials, and non-team sports category (commonly known as the "Program Suppliers" category) between claimants represented by MPAA and claimants represented by IPG. These cable royalty funds follow from the compulsory license established through Section 111 of the Copyright Act ("Section 111"). The cable compulsory license allows CSOs to retransmit broadcast television signals out-of-market (i.e., on a distant basis) without the need to negotiate private license agreements with the multitude of copyright owners whose programs air on those signals. Section 111 sets the rates for the compulsory license fees paid by the CSOs, and these statutorily-set fees are subject to periodic adjustments.² The licensing fees, which are paid by the CSOs to the Copyright Office, are based primarily on the number and type of distant stations each CSO chooses to carry.³ After collecting the royalty payments, the Copyright Office distributes them among eligible copyright owners of compensable programs contained in the distant signals (or their representatives),⁴ either by agreement among the claimants, or pursuant to the determination in a cable royalty distribution proceeding held before the Judges.

¹ See In re Distribution of Cable Royalty Funds 2000- 2003, Docket No. 2008-2 CRB CD 2000-2003 (Phase II), 78 Fed. Reg. 64984, 65003 (Oct. 30, 2013) (hereafter "2000-2003 Cable Phase II" or "Final Determination of Distributions Phase II").

² The periodic adjustments to the royalty fee rates were initially made by the Copyright Royalty Tribunal ("CRT"). Following abolition of the CRT, the adjustments were overseen by Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panels ("CARPs") appointed by the Librarian of Congress. The CARPs were subsequently replaced by the current system of Copyright Royalty Judges.

The cable royalty distribution proceedings occur in two phases. In Phase I, the Judges determine how to allocate royalties among eight broad categories of broadcast programming claimants.⁵ In Phase II, royalties are divided among individual claimants or their representatives within each of the eight broad program categories. I understand that with respect to the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties, MPAA has resolved the controversies with all of the Program Suppliers claimants except IPG.

⁵ (1) Program Suppliers; (2) Joint Sports Claimants; (3) Commercial Television Claimants; (4) Public Television Claimants; (5) Devotional Claimants; (6) Canadian Claimants Group; (7) Music Claimants; and (8) National Public Radio.

The Program Suppliers category is comprised of producers and/or distributors of syndicated series, movies, specials, and non-team sports, excluding devotional programs. Syndicated series, movies, and specials are defined for cable compulsory license royalty purposes as including (1) programs licensed to and broadcast by at least one U.S. commercial television station during the calendar year in question, (2) programs produced by or for a broadcast station that are broadcast by two or more U.S. television stations during the calendar year in question, and (3) programs produced by or for a U.S. commercial television station that are comprised predominately of syndicated elements.⁶ Examples of Program Suppliers programs at issue in this proceeding include Judge Judy, Entertainment Tonight, Wheel of Fortune, Legally Blonde, Seinfeld, and NASCAR Racing.⁷

MPAA represents copyright owners of a variety of programs within the Program Suppliers category. In particular, I understand that there are no types of programming in the Program Suppliers category not offered as MPAA-represented programming.⁸

I have not received a list of IPG-represented compensable programs. Regardless, historically, MPAA has represented the vast majority of claimed compensable programs at issue within the Program Suppliers category in Phase II proceedings. In each of the prior Phase II final awards since 1979, MPAA-represented Program Suppliers have received the overwhelming majority of the royalties awarded to the Program Suppliers category.⁹ MPAA-represented Program Suppliers have received, on average, over 98% of each Phase II award in the Program Suppliers category.¹⁰ MPAA received these awards in years where multiple Program Suppliers representatives sought royalty awards.¹¹ In the recently concluded 2000-2003 Phase II Proceeding, IPG was the only other Program Suppliers litigant against MPAA, and MPAA received, on average, 99.49% of each annual Phase II award.

⁹ The 1997 Phase II cable royalty CARP decision awarded 99.788% of the Program Suppliers royalties to MPAA-represented Program Suppliers. That decision was vacated by the Librarian of Congress (69 Fed. Reg. 23821, 23822 (Apr. 30, 2004)).

¹⁰ MPAA Phase II awards by cable royalty year were 96.3% in 1979 (49 Fed. Reg. 20048 (May 11, 1984)), 96.9% in 1980 (48 Fed. Reg. 9552 (Mar. 7, 1983)), 96.9% in 1981 (49 Fed. Reg. 7845 (Mar. 2, 1984)), 97.5% in 1982 (49 Fed. Reg. 37653 (Sept. 24, 1984)), 98.2% in 1983 (51 Fed. Reg. 12792 (Apr. 15, 1986)), 98.475% in 1984 (52 Fed. Reg. 8408 (Mar. 17, 1987)), 99.175% in 1985 (53 Fed. Reg. 7132 (Mar. 4, 1988)), 98.5% in 1986 (54 Fed. Reg. 16148 (Apr. 21, 1989)), 99.788% in 1997 (66 Fed. Reg. 66433 (Dec. 26, 2001), subsequently vacated, 69 Fed. Reg. 23821 (Apr. 30, 2004)), 98.84% in 2000 (78 Fed. Reg. 64984 (Oct. 30, 2014)), 99.69% in 2001 (Id.), 99.64% in 2002 (Id.), 99.77% in 2003 (Id.).

¹¹ IPG was the sole Program Suppliers claimant against MPAA in the 1997 Cable Phase II Proceeding, in which the CARP awarded 99.788% of the Program Suppliers royalties to MPAA.

IV. ECONOMIC VALUE OF PROGRAMMING: RELATIVE MARKET VALUE DEPENDS ON VIEWERSHIP

At issue in the current Phase II proceeding is how to divide the 2004-2009 Cable Royalties attributable to the Program Suppliers category between MPAA-represented and IPG-represented claimants. The total amount of funds available to the Program Suppliers category was fixed following a combination of litigation and settlement at the Phase I portion of the distribution proceeding.¹² The criterion for dividing the royalty pool among claimants is the "relative market value" of the copyrighted programs.¹³

A. Application of the Relative Market Value Standard

Relative market value corresponds to the price at which the right to retransmit a program carried on a distant broadcast signal would change hands between a willing buyer (a CSO) and a willing seller (a copyright owner), neither being under any compulsion to buy or to sell and both having reasonable knowledge of relevant facts.¹⁴ The "willing buyer" in this hypothetical negotiation is the CSO because it chooses which distant signal channels to carry. CSOs bundle distant signal channels with cable ¹² The Phase I distribution of the 2004 and 2005 cable royalty funds was litigated before the Judges. See 75 Fed. Reg. 57063, 57079 (Sept. 17, 2010). Following the proceeding certain of the Phase I Parties appealed the Judges' decision to the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals. While that appeal was pending the Phase I Parties reached a confidential Phase I settlement regarding the distribution of the 2004-2009 cable royalties. See 78 Fed. Reg. 50113 (Aug. 16, 2013).

¹³ See generally 75 Fed. Reg. 57063 (Sept. 17, 2010).

¹⁴ This definition is consistent with the definition of fair market value written by the U.S. Supreme Court: "The fair market value is the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or to sell and both having reasonable knowledge of relevant facts." United States v. Cartwright, 411 U. S. 546, 93 S. Ct. 1713, 1716-17 (1973).

channels, local broadcast channels and pay-per-view channels in different packages. The CSOs then offer the packages to existing and potential subscribers at varying prices. While CSOs base their channel and bundling decisions on attracting and retaining subscribers, other cost considerations factor into their decisions regarding which distant channels to retransmit and how to bundle them.¹⁵

CSOs' concerns of how to bundle channels are relevant to Phase I Proceedings. However, programming at issue within the Program Suppliers category in this Phase II proceeding is more homogenous than all of the programming at issue in the Phase I proceeding. As a result, the incremental costs to CSOs associated with the carriage of Program Suppliers programs and the differential impact on subscriber growth of these programs can reasonably be assumed to be similar.¹⁶ Analysis in the Phase II proceeding should therefore concentrate more on quantifying subscriber viewing patterns in determining relative market value because in Phase II one would be looking at more homogenous goods within a particular Phase I category.

¹⁵ As the Judges noted in the 2004-2005 Cable Phase I Decision, "The rationale for the cable operator's decision concerning which channels to group in any tier offering and at what price, may depend not only on the impact on direct subscriber revenues, but also on such factors as advertising revenues associated with cable network channels, the relative license fee costs of various cable network channels, physical capacity constraints on the number of channels that can be transmitted over a particular cable system and even the direct ownership interests of the cable system in programming content on a given cable network." 75 Fed. Reg. 57063, 57066 (Sept. 17, 2010).

¹⁶ The Judges noted in the 2000-2003 Cable Phase II Decision that "[t]his relative homogeneity suggests that a rational CSO would not be as concerned with whether different programs would attract different audience segments (compared with more heterogeneous programming) and therefore such a CSO would rely to a greater extent on absolute viewership levels." 78 Fed. Reg. at 64996.

The relative market value of a program in this Phase II proceeding ultimately depends upon the consumption of the programming as measured by its level of viewing. As explained by actual Program Suppliers copyright owners, audience size – as measured by viewership – is central when making licensing deals with broadcast stations and cable networks in the world outside the compulsory licensing scheme.¹⁷ Moreover, in an attempt to attract and retain customers, CSOs want to carry programming with high viewership such as syndicated television series that originally attracted a loyal following in their network showing and continue to do so in syndication.¹⁸ CSOs also carry genres of first-run syndicated programs that they believe will garner satisfactory audience levels.¹⁹

Since this proceeding involves allocating a fixed royalty pool as part of a compulsory licensing scheme, it is entirely appropriate to consider pertinent information concerning the relative economic value of programming, namely program consumption as measured by actual program viewing. Purposefully ignoring actual viewing or ratings could lead to copyright owners of valuable programming receiving disproportionately small royalty awards.

B. Measuring Relative Market Value: Volume, Viewership, and Subscribers

Subscriber preferences are revealed by which distant stations and programs they choose to watch. Subscriber preferences may also be revealed by whether they continue to subscribe to the CSO. Below, I discuss in turn three measures of value: volume, viewership, and subscriber count.

1. Volume

Holding costs constant, CSOs will choose to carry distant signals with programming the CSOs can add to their lineup to attract and retain as many subscribers as possible. In theory, the economic optimizing (i.e., rational) CSO will choose to carry distant signals with the most preferred programming airing at the most preferred times. The total volume of minutes of programming retransmitted by CSOs effectively represents the amount of programming purchased by the CSOs. Therefore, total program volume represents the economic-optimizing CSO choices and provides a measure of the relative economic value of the programming to the CSOs.

While total program volume, or the total number of minutes of programming retransmitted on distant signals, provides useful information concerning the relative value of programming to CSOs, the measure alone is not sufficient. In general, programs' values to the CSO and its subscribers may differ depending on the time slot during which the programs are shown. A 30-minute program shown during primetime might be more valuable to a CSO and its subscribers than an hour-long program shown in the middle of the night. Moreover, programs of identical duration shown at the same time of day may have very different values to CSOs and their subscribers. That is, programming volume alone does not convey a complete picture of the relative value of the programs.

2. Viewership

Audience size, which is determined through program viewership, is the primary interest of programmers and therefore the most direct measure of a program's relative value.²⁰ From the CSO's perspective, the more a program attracts subscribers to watch and keep coming back to watch, the more valuable the program is to the CSO's net-revenue maximizing goal of retaining and growing subscriber count. From the subscriber's perspective, relatively low viewership of a given program reflects the value ascribed to that program by cable subscribers and CSOs. Absent the bundling of programs, economic theory implies that a program with no viewership will most likely not continue to be carried.

Program viewership as a measure of relative market value is consistent with economic theory: a CSO's willingness to pay for a particular program is a function of that program's contribution to the CSO's ability to attract and retain subscribers and thereby maximize net revenue.

3. Subscriber Count

While viewership is proportional to value, a question from the net revenue maximizing CSO's perspective is whether similar viewership levels of different programs are associated with different levels of subscriber retention and attraction. All else equal, programs that are responsible for more subscriber growth – both retaining current subscribers as well as encouraging new subscribers – are more valuable to CSOs than programs promoting less subscriber growth. The relationship between program viewing and subscriber count may be of particular interest when analyzing the relative market value as part of the Phase I proceeding. In this Phase II proceeding, however, all the MPAA and IPG represented programs at issue are within the syndicated series and movies category. As described above, we do not expect to see programs in this same category with similar viewership levels being associated with different changes in CSO subscribers. Nonetheless, I will statistically examine whether MPAA-represented or IPG-represented programs affect subscriber growth differently after receiving information about IPG-compensable programs.

My estimation approach to determine relative market value of MPAA and IPG compensable programming is consistent with the economic arguments described above. After receiving information to identify IPG programs, I will apply a three-step approach:

1. First, I will calculate the relative volume of MPAA programming and IPG programming. This provides a good, but imperfect indicator of the relative value of the two sets of programs.
2. Second, I will calculate the relative viewership of MPAA programming and IPG programming. As described above, this is the most direct measure of relative value: if costs are deemed constant, and without taking subscriber growth into account, then, the higher subscriber viewership will suggest higher relative market value of the programming.
3. Third, I will examine statistically whether MPAA and IPG programming affect subscriber growth differently. Given that this is a Phase II proceeding and the consequent similarity of the type of programming represented by MPAA and IPG, if there is no meaningful difference in how the two sets of programs affect subscriber growth, then viewership share is the most economically sound measure of relative market value.

C. Data Relied Upon to Measure Relative Market Value of Phase II Programming

I rely upon Nielsen ratings data and viewing data in combination with Tribune Media Services (“Tribune”) data to study the volume and viewing information of compensable programs from 2000 through 2009. I also rely upon Cable Data Corporation (“CDC”) data that includes information on the number of CSO subscribers of each distantly retransmitted signal analyzed.

These data are described in the subsections below. In addition to the Tribune and Nielsen data, I was also provided lists of MPAA-represented programs for each year from 2000 through 2009.

1. Nielsen Data

Nielsen is a well-regarded and highly-used source of audience measurement information in the television industry. Prior CARP Reports have concluded that Nielsen data provides “relevant” and “reliable” measures of the number of people viewing programs retransmitted on distant signals.²¹ I rely on three types of Nielsen data: (1) Nielsen Diary data for 2000-2003, (2) Nielsen Local Ratings data for 2000-2009, and (3) Nielsen National Viewing data for 2000-2009.

a. Nielsen Diary Data

The Nielsen Diary data is obtained from information collected by Nielsen from households throughout the United States during “sweeps” months.²² Selected households for each sweeps week complete diaries of the stations watched in their home, for up to five television sets, for a one-week period.²³ MPAA provided Nielsen with a list of sample stations, representing at least 75% of all distant cable subscribers

²¹ See, e.g., 55 Fed. Reg. 5647 (Feb. 16, 1990); 1998-99 Cable Phase I CARP Report (Oct. 21, 2003), at 44; 1990-92 Cable Phase I CARP Report (May 31, 1996), at 84.

²³ Information is collected for 24 hours a day over the seven-day period, reflecting programs viewed within each quarter hour segment.

each year from 2000 to 2003.²⁴ For each of these stations Nielsen calculated the amount of distant viewing to each station for each quarter-hour throughout the sweeps months.²⁵ These Nielsen Diary data capture all viewing by distant subscribers (to the sample stations) for 24 hours per day during the sweeps months.

b. Nielsen Local Ratings Data

Nielsen Local Ratings data are collected by electronic meters attached to television sets in a random sample of households in selected geographic markets across the U.S. (“Nielsen metered markets”).²⁶ These data include information on the number and percentage of households in the station’s local market tuned to the station for each quarter hour for every day throughout the year.

c. Nielsen National Viewing Data

Similar in collection methodology to the Nielsen Local Ratings data, Nielsen National Viewing data is collected by electronic meters attached to television sets in a random sample of households in Nielsen metered markets. These data include Nielsen’s calculations each year from 2000 to 2009 of the number and percentage of households watching television broadcasts over fifteen-minute intervals throughout the day. This information is provided on both a weekday and weekend basis for all broadcast stations as well as on a station affiliation basis.

²⁴ See Kessler Testimony at 11-12 for more detail concerning selection of stations.

²⁵ See 2000-2003 Cable Phase II, Direct Testimony of Paul Lindstrom (“Lindstrom Testimony”) at 4-5 for more detail describing methodology. I understand that MPAA has included the Lindstrom Testimony in its Written Direct Statement in this proceeding as prior designated testimony.

2. Tribune Data

The Tribune data consists of a library of information of each program airing throughout each day, including when the program aired; the station on which the program aired; whether it was local, network, or syndicated; the program title; the episode title (if applicable); the type of program (movie, game show, etc.); and so on. I excluded as non-compensable all network programming, that is, all programs broadcasted on ABC, CBS, or NBC. I also excluded as non-compensable programs airing on WGN's local feed ("WGN") that were not simultaneously broadcast on WGN's national feed ("WGNA").

3. CDC Data

The CDC data originate from statements of accounts ("SOAs") that CSOs are required to file with the Licensing Division of the Copyright Office semi-annually. These data include information regarding the distant signals carried, the number of subscribers to each signal, and the fees generated by each signal during years covered by this proceeding.²⁷

²⁷ See 2004-2009 Cable Phase II, Direct Testimony of Jonda Martin.

Based on the CDC data, there were over 1,000 stations that were distantly retransmitted by CSOs each year from 2004 to 2009.²⁸ Due to cost considerations in obtaining Nielsen Local Ratings data and Tribune data described above for all these stations, I implemented a stratified random sampling methodology to identify a sample of distantly retransmitted stations each year from 2000 to 2009.²⁹ Across the samples there were 1,269 station-year combinations with 533 unique stations. Each year's random sample included both large and small stations in terms of the number of distant subscribers as well as fees generated. These random samples were given to Nielsen and to Tribune. For all of these stations and years for which data was available, Nielsen provided Local Ratings data and Tribune provided the Tribune data described above.

D. Economic Analysis: Estimating and Imputing Distant Viewing

To determine the relative market value of copyrighted Program Supplier programs distantly retransmitted, one would calculate the relative viewing of those programs on a distant basis. I am able to provide a reasonable estimate of relative distant viewing levels relying upon the data sources described in the previous section. In particular, I calculate the mathematical relationship between distant viewing levels for the years the data is available and various program characteristics during those years. I then extrapolate that mathematical relationship to estimate distant viewing for compensable programs each year from 2004 to 2009.

²⁹ A list of sampled stations for the local ratings data is contained in Appendix C. I implemented a random sampling methodology, stratified by number of distant subscribers of the stations.

E. Relative Market Value of MPAA versus IPG Programming

As described earlier, I have not yet received any information to identify IPG-compensable programs. Therefore, I cannot yet calculate what share of Phase II compensable programs are represented by IPG (relative to MPAA). I am able to analyze the various datasets described above and provide statistics concerning the breadth of MPAA programming and the extent to which it is retransmitted in distant markets. After receiving information identifying IPG-compensable programming, I will update my analysis to calculate the implied royalty share allocations and other relative metrics.

1. MPAA Statistics

Table 1 below presents summary statistics concerning the number of MPAA compensable programs and associated programming volume retransmitted for the 130 to 131 randomly sampled stations for each year between 2004 and 2009.

Year	Number of Unique Programs Aired	Number of Programs Retransmitted	Total Volume of Compensable Programming (Minutes)
2004	29,734	528,784	20,934,011
2005	27,752	578,079	22,475,318
2006	27,062	462,984	18,143,856
2007	25,962	525,620	20,679,172
2008	26,603	398,830	15,807,666
2009	35,308	448,951	17,933,645

Column 2 in Table 1 reports that each year from 2004 to 2009, between 25,962 and 35,308 unique MPAA compensable programs aired on these randomly sampled stations.³⁰ On average, each of MPAA's programs was retransmitted each year approximately 17 times (dividing Column 3 totals by Column 2 totals) as the yearly total number of program retransmissions (Column 3) varied from 398,830 in 2008 to 578,079 in 2009. MPAA programs varied in duration from thirty-minute shows to movies several hours long. Column 4 shows that MPAA compensable programs covered 15.8 to 22.5 million minutes of retransmitted air time each year from 2004 to 2009. Based on the number of programs retransmitted, the average duration per retransmitted show was approximately 39 minutes (dividing Column 4 totals by Column 2 totals).

Annual viewership of MPAA compensable programming will be a multiple of its programming volume. As described above, in order to determine viewing minutes during non-sweeps months, I will employ multiple regression analysis techniques and rely upon the list of MPAA and IPG compensable programs. After receiving a complete list of IPG compensable programs between 2004 and 2009, I will present statistics concerning MPAA and IPG program viewing, as well as their implied royalty share.

2. Preliminary Royalty Share Estimates

In advance of receiving information concerning IPG-represented compensable programming, one approach to estimate MPAA's and IPG's royalty share each year from ³⁰ I define a "unique program" at the episode level. Thus, e.g., different episodes of the series The Simpsons are each defined as a unique program.

2004 to 2009 is to extrapolate the Judges' final determination from 2000 to 2003 forward.

In the last Phase II proceeding, the Judges established MPAA's share of the Phase II award to be 98.84% in 2000, 99.69% in 2001, 99.64% in 2002, and 99.77% in 2003. 78 Fed. Reg. at 65003. Assuming MPAA's royalty share award follows the trend of awards determined by the Judges from 2000 to 2003, the MPAA royalty shares would be 99.90% in 2004, 99.95% in 2005, 99.97% in 2006, 99.98% in 2007, 99.99% in 2008, and 99.99% in 2009.³¹

V. CONCLUSION: ROYALTY SHARE ALLOCATION

Over the years 2004 to 2009, CSOs retransmitted hundreds of thousands of MPAA-represented programming hours on a distant basis. I have not received information identifying any IPG-represented programming retransmitted over the same time period. Assuming MPAA and IPG representation of programming followed the trend evidenced in 2000 to 2003, MPAA's royalty allocation would be 99.90% in 2004, 99.95% in 2005, 99.97% in 2006, 99.98% in 2007, 99.99% in 2008, and 99.99% in 2009.

³¹ This projection assumes a linear trend in royalty share over time with a logistic transformation so that the estimated royalty shares will be between 0% and 100%.

Education & Background Summary

Ph.D., Economics, University of Pennsylvania
B.A., Economics (with honors) University of California Santa Cruz

Dr. Gray has over 20 years of experience in economic and statistical consulting, survey design, sampling methodologies, and complex database analytics. He is an authority on economic markets, statistical methods, and economic damages. His research has been published in some of the top peer-reviewed journals in the economics profession including The American Economic Review and the Journal of Human Resources. Dr. Gray has presented his findings before a variety of seminars at universities, meetings of professional societies and conferences on specialized topics in the United States and abroad. Dr. Gray has received recognition and financial support to pursue his research from the U.S. Department of Labor, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the Research Board of the University of Illinois. Throughout his career Dr. Gray has served as referee for professional journals assessing the appropriate application of economics and statistics.

Dr. Gray has conducted studies for corporations, government agencies and law firms on a variety of economic and statistical issues. Dr. Gray has served as a testifying expert on behalf of both plaintiffs and defendants addressing class certification, liability and/or damages issues. He has provided written or oral expert testimony in state, federal, and international courts and presented analytical findings before the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Texas Commissioner of Insurance, the Government of Singapore, and the New York and Massachusetts State Offices of Attorney General.

In addition to leading the economic and statistical consulting practices at Huron Consulting Group and Deloitte Financial Advisory Services LLP, Dr. Gray has served on the staff of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and on the faculty of the University of Illinois where he taught graduate and undergraduate courses covering consumer demand analysis, labor economics, and statistics. He earned a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Pennsylvania.
